

Local Winner Announced in Madison's "ABC Family 25 Days of Christmas Contest"

Emily Miller of Staunton was recently announced the winner in the ABC Family 25 Days of Christmas Contest. This sweep-stakes was co-sponsored by local cable operator, Madison Communications Company. Area residents were invited to complete an online entry or register in person at Madison's business office during the month of December, 2010. The national grand prize in this sweepstakes was $25,000 cash, and the local prize was a 40" Samsung LCD television set. Following the close of the contest December 26th, national winners were verified and announced during February, with the local winner's name released just last week.

According to local prize winner, Emily Miller, the ABC Family Network contacted her early in March for verification, and her television set was delivered to her home March 18th. When asked about her award, Emily explained that she "never wins anything," and was pleasantly surprised when she received the call.

Madison would like to thank all area residents who participated in the sweep-stakes.
