

Vote for Your Favorite Teacher in Madison's Teacher of the Year Contest!

Be sure to vote for your favorite teacher in Madison Communications Company's Teacher of the Year Contest. Any student or area resident is eligible to vote. Profiles of nominated teachers in this year's contest are located at <http://www.gomadison.com/residential/promotions/teacherofyear>. To vote, simply select the "Vote for a Teacher" link and choose your teacher. You may only vote one time during this balloting process. Voting will be permitted through April 21, 2010, at 4:00 p.m.

The two teachers receiving the highest number of votes will each receive a $500 cash award to be used toward a future student advancement project within his or her school district. In addition, the winning teacher's homeroom class will each receive a free pizza party, compliments of Madison. Winners will be announced online the first week of May, with the awards presentation taking place during the classroom pizza parties later than month.

Don't miss this great opportunity to recognize outstanding leadership in your school district and help support future student projects. Madison would like to take this opportunity to thank the local area school administrators for their cooperation with this project.
